Ms. Jaronitzky was walking near Balto Seppala Park because it was a beautiful Summer day. She is a commercial pilot and is used to the sound of overflying airplanes from the Lake Hood Airport. She noted that there were many people in the park that day. She heard an airplane flying overhead, and then heard the engine go suddenly quiet. There was no sputtering. It just went silent. Soon thereafter, she heard some loud impacts. She went to the scene of the accident and observed the postaccident activities.
