Narrative:

The following is a summary of a conversation that occurred with a witness from the Sheriff's Department

- The night of the accident, she witnessed a really bright orange colored ball in the sky on her drive home from work. The object was far away, and she was not able to tell if it was an airplane. She just witnessed an orange ball coming down falling from the sky and noted that the object was falling slowly in a southeast direction. The orange color was steady and not flickering. She stated that it was dark, but she could not remember if there was dust, she recalled people saying it was windy and that weather was bad, however she believed it was clear.
- She lives in Anza, CA [REDACTED] approximately 75 miles west of the accident site
