I Victoria Scheller on the above date time and address was sitting in my bedroom on the computer, facing toward the window when I saw and heard a loud motor noise and the plane quickly flying by my window, then a loud thump. I couldn't tell what had happened until I ran outside to see neighbors rushing to help anyone in the house and the plane engulfed in flames.

I saw the plane inserted into the roof the homeowners dogs were barking loudly and I heard beeping that I assume came from the plane itself.

We were going west on IRMA DR. BY THE CATHOLIC CHURCH when I noticed a single engine plane towing a GEICO banner. He was extremely low and slow and he looked to be in trouble. He turned south after going over Boardwalks & then he turned west and south of the water towers. I continued looking for the aircraft or smoke as we went west on 112th and past Huron and then turned into the Park Vista neighborhood after seeing smoke. I continued looking for a location as I drove past to 111th & Livingston where I parked, ran across a bridge to where a house was engulfed in smoke & flames. I did NOT see the crash but the aircraft was in trouble & looked like he was going down from first sight over I-25. Nose high attitude and I was worried the banner was going to get caught on a tree or light pole.

We were at Vantage Point when we saw a plane flying incredibly low. He flew above a radio tower and almost hit some power lines on Huronst. He flew low and cut his Geico banner off and flew down and hit the house. His plane went down and we ran off the track and ran towards the house. We arrived and the house was burning. Then the police and fire fighters arrived.

I was south bound on Huron & saw a plane made 75'-100' feet off the ground - I thought it was going to hit Vantage Pt. High School - The pilot was dragging a Geico sign and I could ~~see~~ see the nose of the plane pointing up like he was trying to gain altitude - The engine sounded like it was sputtering - I saw the plane begin to lose altitude - I heard a loud crash and saw a plume of smoke coming from the roof of a house

I was driving south on Huron street from 120th Ave we I first noticed the plane towing a banner having trouble with the wind. The wind blew the banner west and the plane tried to go east to correct.
The plane then made a couple of attempts to gain altitude by turning back west. When I got to Huron & 112th I could not see the plane anymore and assumed it went down.

I was at 112th and Huron heading south. I was waiting for the light to change when I saw a small plane pulling a banner. It was heading south and flying real low. It turned and was heading west for a little bit and it then starting going north and then went down. I could not hear the engines and did not see any smoke or flames coming from the plane. I pulled into the neighborhood off of 112th + Livingston and ran over to the house. It was already on fire and the North Metro fire dept. arrive within a few seconds.

I live across the street from the house in question. I was in my backyard when I saw a small plane fly overhead. It was about 1000' off the ground & was bobbing and weaving. The engine seemed weak. I saw that the plane had a banner attached dragging behind & it caught on one of the neighbor's fences. Then I heard a crash.

I ran out the front door and saw one of ^{the} planes wings sticking out of the neighbor's house, smoke & flames were starting. The pilot came around the house. He was covered in blood & was calling 911. We attempted to check for people & pets but couldn't find anyone. Later the firemen found the dogs.

My friends and I were at Vantage point and we were getting ready to run around the track. The plane was flying really low in my opinion and I thought it was very strange. It had a banner on the back of it and it looked like it was about to hit the power lines. It flew a few more blocks down and then it just stopped moving and went down.
