

Memo for Record

Craig Hatch
Air Safety Investigator
Central Region

Person Contacted: Jason Adame, FAA Baton Rouge, LA FSDO

30 Aug, 2016

Narrative:

During the initial call, the inspector made the following points:

- People said that he had the habit of flying too low [on the approach]
- Passenger reported the pilot said four red lights – “that’s the runway”

During a follow-up email, the inspector reported a conversation with a individual:

- Said pilot always flew low on the approach
- Pilot did not use flaps for landings
