- She was inside her house with her two children with the windows and doors closed

- She heard the airplane fly low over her house and the sound was louder than the other airplanes that constantly fly over
- The airplane sounded like it was really low, a lot lower than the other airplanes she hears
- She usually doesn't notice the airplane flying over her house because they are higher and they aren't nearly as loud. This airplane sounded much lower and was a lot louder

- She only heard the sound of one distinct engine quit
- She does not know anyone else who heard or witnessed the airplane crash
