The passenger reported the following information:

- After landing at Rusk County Airport, the pilot refueled. After refueling, the pilot taxied out to the runway for takeoff. Everything seemed normal.
- After takeoff, she noticed that the airplane was turning left but the right wing kept going up. The pilot told her to get down. She looked down and all she saw below was trees. She said that she got a glimpse at the instruments, and the airspeed indicator showed about "sixty" when the airplane hit the trees.
