Robert Pierpont account of accident.

I flew up to 500 to 600 feet and turned to go home, when the plane throttle would not advance. Something similar to icing. So I turned to return to an emergency landing spot which I had used before, I somehow got disorientated and clipped a tree went straight down.

Thank you,

Robert Pierpont

A handwritten signature in dark ink is written over a solid black rectangular redaction box. The signature appears to be 'Robert Pierpont' with a stylized flourish at the end.
