Sitting in my kitchen approx 8:30 AM heard what sounded like a go cart or bike coming down the street it got louder then realized it was a plane heard the engine stall then crank back up very high RPM then a crash ran out to see the fuel cloud behind my house the plane came over top of our house hit beside our neighbors house once the fuel cloud went away I ran to check for the pilot.

I was obvious from the sound of the engine being such high RPM the plane was headed downward after the re crank it got louder above the house.
