Hi Mike

There's not much of the aborted part of the take-off captured. As he comes back on the taxi way towards runway 35. He has all the cabin lights up on bright. I can see him sitting in the aircraft as he pulls up to hold short line. However, as he turns to stop, I can only see the tail of the airplane as he sits there for 10 min. He then turns up the runway lights, turns on wing tip strobes, and departs.

While looking at the video, I can see or get a feeling for the visibility. I can easily see all the way down the runway and runway lights shining clearly. I can also see traffic on highway 71 (which is roughly 1/2 mile) clearly. So, the ground visibility wasn't bad.

Thanks
