I want to make the following facts known:

EARL Kirkpatrick built this aircraft from a kit. It is a Sonex - 2 place - I was part of the crew for his first flight (initial test flt.) I was videoing for what we hoped to be youtube offering.

As he started his take off roll the engine could be heard sputtering. He took off on Runway 35 left and was seen climbing North, he then turned cross wind - Then he turned downwind to the south. He intended to circle the field for safety on this first flight. I lost sight of him as he flew to the south. I heard him call Spinks tower & said the aircraft was having trouble climbing then called again saying he had a sick engine & would try to return to Spinks. I had no further sighting of the aircraft nor heard any other communications.
