Central Region

Date: September 29, 2022
Person Contacted: Maurice White
NTSB Accident Number: CEN22FA299 – Mt. Pleasant, Texas

Narrative:

Mr. White's residence was located immediately north of the airport along the extended runway centerline. He was accustomed to hearing airplanes fly over and noted that he normally heard an airplane approaching before it was right over his house. However, at 10:45pm on the night of the accident, he did not hear the airplane until it seemed to be right overhead. Immediately afterward, he heard the airplane impact trees on the opposite side of the road. The time interval from when he first heard the airplane until the impact was approximately 1 second.

Mr. White recalled the engine sounded "strong" and at "maximum power." He emphasized the airplane seemed to be "at full throttle" as the pilot was "flying so hard and so fast." The weather that night was "clear and nice."
