Contact: [REDACTED]

Called [REDACTED] and asked him about the CJ6 that ran away at Burnet TX. He stated that [REDACTED] was trying to start the aircraft and he was having problems getting it started to fly home that afternoon. He said [REDACTED] got out of the airplane went around to pull the propeller through and while pulling the propeller through it caught and started up.

I asked [REDACTED] how he thought the engine would start on its own? He said he did not know if the mag switch was on or if it was a mechanical issue. [REDACTED] stated he did not look in the cockpit to see the mag switch position. [REDACTED] also stated that he was just a friend trying to help. He also mentioned that the thought [REDACTED] was still in the hospital.
