Date: July 10, 2013
Person Contacted: Mary Rediske – Pilot's Wife
NTSB Accident Number: DCA13MA121

Narrative:

She and Willie have three children, ages 5, 3, and 1 year old.

Mrs. Rediske stated that their lives were fairly routine from day to day. Willie would usually leave the house between 6:30 and 7:00 am for work. The time he came home from work varied. Saturdays were usually shorter work days for him and he was typically off on Sundays. He typically would fall asleep between 9:00 and 11:00 pm, depending what was going on and what was on TV.

Willie normally ate breakfast at the airport. They always had plenty of food there.

She described Willie as a “good” sleeper and commented that he had a habit of sleeping through the sound of the kids getting up during the night.

It had been a good summer for them, laid back. They were able to take two vacations within the last year.

Willie was healthy and there were no recent illness with the kids. The business was going good and he didn't seem to have any concern about it. The business was running smooth enough to keep him busy, but it was not over whelming as it had been in years past. He has a good balance between work and home.

They were talking about having another child and adding onto their house.

Willie always had lots of energy. He did not take any prescription medications or vitamin supplements. It was rare that he would even take any over the counter medications such as Tylenol or Advil.

Willie smoked tobacco, but she could not estimate how much.

He would occasionally have an alcoholic beverage. If he had one drink a week, it would be a lot for him. His alcohol consumption was not routine. Maybe a beer while they were sitting out by the fire pit.

They did not have a family doctor. Other than his flight physicals, Mrs. Rediske could not remember the last time he went to a doctor. He did not wear glasses.

Mrs. Rediske provided the following 72 history:

Thursday - She did not recall what they did on Thursday.

Friday – Willie went to work around 6 am. That evening they took the kids to a movie that started at 7:20 pm, and they were back home between 9:00 and 9:30 pm.

Saturday – Normal work day for Willie. He left the house for work by 8:30 am. He returned home and they had dinner with the kids around 6:30 and 7:00 pm. They got the kids ready for bed and watched TV. Willie fell asleep between 9:00 and 9:30pm.

Sunday – Willie got up and showered prior to leaving for work. Not sure what time he left, but it was bright outside. She did not talk to him before he left for work.
