I was connecting the Portable Ground Power to the aircraft (E190) on gate 5. After I Connected the ground power to the aircraft, I noticed it wasn't giving power to the aircraft. I went back to check if the Portable Ground Power was on. When I checked I saw that the Portable ground Power was on. Then I went back to the aircraft to confirm if the plane was receiving power. Suddenly the connection between the portable ground Power and the aircraft sparked. The Spark caught my right sleeve and my right ^{wrist} got burned and my right eyebrow got singed.
