During descent, at approximately 18,000ft, the 'B' Flight Attendant was standing in the aft galley when the aircraft encountered turbulence. The 'B' Flight Attendant was thrown into air and landed awkwardly. Another Flight Attendant went to assist the 'B' in getting up, but a second set of turbulence was encountered prior to being seated in the jumpseat causing the 'B' Flight Attendant to fall a second time. The flight was met upon landing by EMS and the 'B' Flight Attendant was transported to the hospital where they were diagnosed with an L1 fracture in their back.
