After 6:00 PM Thursday evening I went outside and stood by a swing in the back yard, 200 feet to the south west of where I stood is a pine tree 50 to 60' tall. I heard a plane as I looked in that direction, for a few seconds I saw this plane heading east, the plane was barely to that pine tree (which he was below the level of that tree) suddenly banked south east.

There was not enough power to clear that tree. I heard the engine, the nose went down between 2 oak trees and a power pole, striking the oak tree and the power pole. The right wing plane facing south is still in the oak tree probably 30' up in the tree.

300 feet from where he banked south east is a Hat Field, I think he tried to make that.

Note: There were 3 on the plane. The one I assisted was the most injured to the eye.
