On September 16 around 915am, I was attempting to take off in a Hughes 269B, N141LL. I was departing a field in Hartford AI. After picking up into a hover, I started transition to forward flight. I remember applying cyclic to clear a raised drive way. I remember applying full aft cyclic and raising collective. After tht I am pretty foggy about what happened. I remember getting hit in the head, then hearing the engine racing, pulling the mixture and turning off the battery. I don't recall getting out or what I did after that.

I was a passenger in a helicopter that crashed on the 19th of September. The best i can remember is taking off, as we moved forward i thought we were low compared to the fence wire. Next thing I remember the aircraft lurching to the right and then up. After that i closed my eyes and felt the impact and heard the engine running. I suffered a cut on my big toe and a bruise on my left thigh and that was it. My husband had more cuts and bruises than I did.
