Good morning,

I am investigating an accident (ERA15LA114) in which the above airplane was involved in. The accident took place near Fernandina Beach (FHB), Florida on January 25, 2015 about 1430 EST. We understand that FHB was the destination but not sure if the pilot got a weather briefing or filed a flight plan. Since the pilot is in ICU we are not able to obtain that information at this time and I was in hopes you might shed some light. Would you all be able to look and see if he filed a flight plan or obtained a weather briefing and what the departure airport was?

Thank you for your help
