Good morning, sorry we are late getting back to you, the inspector came at 9:00 AM on 11/15/18 to do the test on actuator, actuator tested good, locked and unlocked at the correct PSI with no leaks however the switch was showing green safe light the entire test so the switch was defective and requires replacement. The switch was very old and brittle from the looks of it. The actuator has been put back into a secure area until we are told how to continue forward. Thank you and glad we could help with the testing of this actuator for you. Any question let us know. – Beau Wade – Maintenance Supervisor
