

March 4, 2019

Per our conversation, I am writing this statement concerning weather conditions on 3/1/19 at around 1925 EST. At that time, I was watching my television at my home at [REDACTED]. This is three miles east of the crash site of a Cessna 182 that crashed into Clifton Pond off Clifton Pond road in Franklin NC.

At 7:25 pm the television completely lost satellite reception. When this has happened in the past it is usually due to large rain clouds blocking the signal from the antenna, in other words it was raining so hard it knocked my satellite out.

I hope this help in establishing the weather conditions in the area at the time of the aircraft accident that night.

Sincerely

Ronnie G. Martin.
