On June 22, 2022, the Investigator in Charge (IIC) reviewed local news reports of the accident. The IIC accessed this URL [<https://www.wmur.com/article/plane-crash-connecticut-river-charlestown-nh-62222/40377244>] which included video and news reporting footage from WMUR, Channel 9.

The report depicted a witness identified as Stephen Young who stated.

"I noticed it was flying very low, lower than most aircraft fly, and I knew there were power lines down here, and I knew he was low enough to hit them," said witness Stephen Young, who called 911. "I stopped what I was doing, listened for the crash and I heard the crash."

Young said that after he called 911, he drove to the police station before going to the boat launch to see if he could help. "I saw (the pilot) when he was actually swimming," Young said. "Our officer from Charlestown was giving him encouragement."
