Person Interviewed- Brad Riedle – Student pilot
NTSB Case Number: ERA23LA068

Narrative:

Mr. Riedle was interviewed by telephone.

Mr. Riedle, the student pilot, stated that he had about 2.2 hours in this make and model airplane. He stated that he and the flight instructor were practicing some maneuvers before they flew back to the airport to practice some touch and go landings. He said after a few touch and go landings, and on the last takeoff, he turned the airplane on a crosswind leg after climbing to about 900 ft and the engine lost total power. Then the flight instructor took over control of the airplane and tried to turn back to the airport. he said they landed hard and short of the runway and taxiway. He stated his back was hurting and before they egressed out of the airplane, the flight instructor shut everything down.
