Subject: Follow-up Email Question for the Pilot

Contact: Aris Delianides, Pilot

On April 18, Mr. Aris Delianides was contacted via email at [REDACTED] with follow-up questions by IIC Ryan Enders regarding the accident flight.

Mr. Delianides was asked on April 18, 2024, the question "did you have any mechanical problems with the airplane prior to the initial contact with the runway?".

Mr. Delianides responded via email from [REDACTED] on April 18, 2024 with: "No mechanical problems I'm aware of. Seemed pretty normal final. The distance on the runway between the nosewheel and the prop just bothers me. If they occurred simultaneously then I would have expected them to be closer together. On the other hand if they both occurred on the initial impact it would clearly explain why my attempt at go around was unsuccessful. No thrust."
