TY STRIBLING

LA GRANGE GA 30241

On 9/23/24 at 1:00pm I met my student Mr. Huckgun Choi (Ken) at Airventures To start our flight lesson. We flew for about one hour and a half then came back to KLGC to do a touch and go on runway 31. When we were on the “go” (Mr. Choi was flying) at about 200-300 feet the planes engine started running rough and the plane stopped climbing. I took control of the plane and did a right turn back to the airport and landed on runway 21. Even though I had pulled out all the power the engine seemed to be still producing power. Mr. Choi and I applied braking. The plane ran off the end of runway 21 down an embankment where it came to a stop. We exited the plane and went for medical attention.
