

This morning we preflighted the ^{INSTRUCTION} aircraft and briefed our instruction flight. After startup we taxied to the run-up ~~area~~ area for RWY 24. Performed engine run up and pretake-off checks. Taxied to RWY 24, lined up on runway centerline and advanced throttle for takeoff. At some point in takeoff roll tail came up. Aircraft yawed right. At that point things happened ^{QUICKLY} quickly so I am not sure what happened other than Arnold called 'my airplane' and I relinquished control. Next thing I know we are off the runway. Shut down fuel and turned off mags.
