I was fueling my truck in Basin Western yard across the street from the incident. One of my co-workers walked up to talk to me when I heard a loud pop. I looked up to see the helicopter rear tail section break away from the rest of the helicopter. It started to spin and Dive towards Basin's yard then it suddenly it shot back to the south and into the Building across the street. I turned the fuel off as Kellan tried to call 911. By that time we could hear the first sirens and people running to the building
