Tealeye Cornejo
Air Safety Investigator (Field)
Western Pacific Region

Date: October 2017

Person Contacted: Marianne Recher: [REDACTED]

NTSB Accident Number: WPR17FA196

Narrative:

According to Mrs. Recher was at the Pt. Reyes Blue Bird Sanctuary when she heard what she thought sounded like logs were being dumped from a truck. It was a loud sound located just northeast of her location (about 4/10th's of mile, where the accident site was located. She was unsure of the time but thought maybe around 1-2pm.

The weather at the time was dense fog with less than 1/4mile visibility with little to no wind present.

Hi, Cornejo -

Below are answers to your two questions.

1. Point Reyes Bird Observatory (37°55'47.85"N 122°44'7.90"W), ~4/10 of a mile from crash site (as measured on Google Earth, wreckage is visible from building).
2. Dense fog -- less than 1/4-mile visibility. No or very little wind.

Hope that helps. Copying Ryan DiGaudio, my husband, who was there as well and also heard what I heard.

All the best,
Marianne Recher

Good Morning Mrs. Recher

I apologize for not being able to reach out sooner. I just have a couple of questions for you.

1. Where were you located
2. What was the weather like in your area and the surrounding area

Thank you for your time.

Regards,

Tealeye
