Good morning,

LFS activated a ForeFlight.com VFR flight plan and there were online weather briefings from a company called Aerovie. I'll request the release of the information for you.

Good morning,

I picked up the airplane accident from Farmington, New Mexico, from 3/31/19 (yesterday afternoon). Looks like the accident occurred around ~1439 MDT (2039 UTC) and was N173CT. It was a Cirrus SR-22. Any check of Leidos would be great to have. Have a good Monday,

Paul
