Josh,

Statement below:

On the morning of October 1st, 2022 I was performing an Operational Check Flight of helicopter N284CA with maintenance personnel. So that it may be returned back to service. I departed Fresno airport (KFAT) and proceed south. Approximately 5 nautical miles south of the airport is when I experienced a tail rotor failure and announced that to the crew. The helicopter began to yaw abruptly to the right and I performed an autorotation and landed on the front yard of a resident's home.
