Accident Location: Bullhead City, Arizona
Accident Date: March 6, 2023

Narrative:

The following is a synopsis of the information provided by the incident commander, Daniel Hugo, in a telephone conversation on March 6, 2023:

The incident commander reported that the pilot stated that there were no preimpact mechanical malfunctions or failures that would have precluded normal operation and that the pilot had just ran out gas.

The incident commander verified that the left fuel level indicator was 1 notch below the red line threshold; conversely, the right fuel level indicator was about 2 notches below the red line threshold.
