

Stephen Stein
Senior Aviation Accident Investigator
AS-WPR

Date: December 7, 2024

Subject: WPR24FA018 - Interview

Contact: Wayne Wagstrom - Accident pilot

According to pilot, has had airplane for 35 years and is experienced flying in winter. High mountain lake knew there was too much snow to land. For some reason he had a lapse in judgement and decided to "knick" the surface and leave track in the ice on the lake, but immediately after he touched the surface the airplane planted and landed upside down.