On May 6, 2026, I received an email from [REDACTED], an inspector with the FAA Albuquerque Flight Standards District Office (FSDO), which included a written statement from [REDACTED], the injured passenger onboard N4022X during the accident flight on May 2, 2026.

In her statement, she reported that she was a passenger on the balloon flight operated by [REDACTED]. She stated that during the landing sequence, she was holding onto the basket uprights. Upon landing, she immediately experienced severe pain in her upper arm and shoulder.

She was transported for medical treatment and was diagnosed with a serious injury.
